Peace – Here are some charts from the 11-18-26 trading session.

The “Trade Assistant” critique of the session, was that the “5 day’s Value Reading” was bearish, and the fact that price did not hold above the previous day’s NY value range, meant that the previous day’s value leaned bearish as well – (“Coach’s” point was that the bearish price move may have been a potential trade, because the Higher time – “5 days” - and lower time – “previous day” - Value ranges were in agreement).

“Long Story Longer” – My goal is keep working on an “Oversight indicator”.

The truth is that AI will be coaching (sooner than later), and even notifying traders when trade entries are high probability.

Our time of discretionary trading will seem primitive very soon.

Meanwhile. Here was my trade session. Peace.
