

:-) Thoughts from Byron...(Byreeeeene)

One God?

So, does that mean Christians, Muslims, Jewish, KRSNA...is all one? Yes, that's what ONEGOD means...

So why the confusion...because, possibly the social dynamics of how human rituals have reflected off of a pure belief over the centuries has created dynamics between global faiths and local faiths...with the internet and space cameras this "division" is washing over? Inevitable...

So how does a “ONEGOD” thinker navigate through the mostly unawareness of the true space camera reality social encounters at a church or office...?

Knowing that there is always division (because without division there is no unity (dualism?), how do we “roll” with our ONEGOD peacefully...?

1st Corinthians 11:17

Keep it real about needing your space to be, and defend your faith (or just being you) with a peaceful way...that way, we can co-exist easier...in an office, airspace or church this is necessary...

Peter 3:15 and Mark 5:40...defend your faith, and if they won't stop scoffing and trippin'...show em' that door peacefully as possible...with love the aim...

Where is the sense of humor? We need that...that reaches us...

Leaders get bombarded with people and information, so give them space...they have their gigs...

Oh and a quick note to the B gamers who have a heart to listen...much love...the twin miracle is actually GOD saying...onelove...and to stay out of trouble...(yeah..yeah..we know...cash rules...but stay out of trouble y'all "any means necessary" folks...being detained ain't fun...God bless those on lock or struggling)...☺ my brother gets that...and so do his brothaz, even though they "test the waters" and "have their say" n all that...at the end of the day..."ain't nothin' ta F with" is my team too...Killah Beez on that swarm...ha..ha.....

that's for life B...(we like all that "Peace B" and "cool B" stuff...that's the love folks)....and the leaders in Rap who have a heart about it...the rest is just denial and evil when you really get clear about it...so be careful...don't let it create a snare of trouble in your life...ONELOVE...peace..

Negative or needy folks can drain the life out of someone, so don't let it take the life from you...let people be, but don't hesitate to plant a seed of hope, without it destroying your own...

Social dynamics in church pushes people away from the word, and especially when a leader cannot properly communicate the love that is necessary to create an environment of inclusion...

Don't engage the confusion...because peace is an absence of confusion...travel in harmony...

If they knew that all of us are part of the space camera reality that includes all kinds of faiths, at every moment of the day...the world leaders would be preaching one religion? Or something like that...LOVE, the Heart...Compassion?

Prioritize and time budget...cash rules stuff...take care...rest..poop food...exercise etc...

So if we are all GOD's children...are both the 2 billion Muslims and 2 Billion Christians cool?

ONEGOD people says yes...! That's the goods...

UNIFICATION PRINCIPLE...ONEGOD...the rest is gravy...
